Water for Life $1167.74

- The Water for Life fund makes clean, safe water available to families which improves their lives and health.
- Access to safe water can improve food production and overall health. In Ethiopia, NCCW has supported a watershed management program that focuses on providing community access to clean water and helping neighboring communities conserve natural resources. Hillside terracing and sustainable land use planning helped to naturally replenish exhausted water supplies. Communities have gained access to more water, which has increased crop production, generated more income and improved overall health.
