

After many years of dedicated service to the parish, community of Missoula, and world, the Blessed Trinity Parish Council of Catholic Women has voted to dissolve. All the members do so with great sorrow as the group has so many worthwhile and necessary projects. Throughout the last decade not only the membership dwindled but also has the interest and participation of the parish in fundraisers and activities sponsored by the PCCW. In the end the cost of both time and money invested by such a few people was no longer worth the return, particularly in the case of the fundraising events. We pray that a new, energized, and younger group will be very successful in fulfilling the role of fundraising and hospitality.
