

Dennis [Brad] Williamson Obituary

Missoula - Dennis Brad Williamson, who always preferred to be called Brad, passed peacefully in the afternoon of February 9, 2026, after a long life well lived.

Dad was born on November 1, 1937, to Norval Williamson and Leoan Loftus Williamson on the family homestead in Malta Montana. The family relocated to Great Falls for work and Dad grew up there, telling many tales of his favorite pranks and escapades with his parents, uncles, and cousins.

Dad joined the Navy in January of 1955, at the tail end of the Korean War. After his discharge in January of 1963, he returned to Great Falls to live life out loud. He rode his motorcycle, raced around in his Corvair, and earned a pilot license so he could fly all over MT to hunt and fish. Dad worked as a mechanic then a parts manager, and met then married the love of his life, Mary (Bunny) Dugan Williamson on December 7, 1963.

Mom and Dad settled in Whitefish, MT and raised the 5 of us girls together.

Dad was a great husband, father, and artist; his 4th grade school project, a clay cowboy, was once displayed in the Charlie Russel Museum.

Dad worked as a salesman for many years, but sculpting and later painting were his passions. He spent long hours in the basement of the family home on Blanchard Lake Road carving his latest masterpiece.

Dad's primary medium was wood and his work ranged from wildlife to portraits, to display cases, with the American West holding top spot as his favorite subject.

Dad leaves behind his daughters, Windy (Craig) Petersen of Missoula, MT, Dena Voshell of Buckley, WA, Denise Davidson of Columbia Falls, MT, Jennifer Williamson of Missoula, MT, and Kathleen (Robb) Howell of Medford, OR. Dad is survived by grandchildren Nicole, Jessica, and Cody (Windy and Craig), Heather, Tonja, and Tad (Dena), Derik and Jonah (Denise), Emma (Jennifer), and Blake, Ian, Nick, and Bruner (Kathleen and Robb). There are nine surviving great grandchildren and one great, great granddaughter.

Dad was preceded in death by his beloved wife and our mom, Bunny, his parents, Norval and Leoan Williamson, his grandchildren, Kole Swartz and Ann Petersen, his great grand children, Khloe Petersen, Levi Pimm, and Max Petersen.

More than 40 years ago, Dad was commissioned to carve a life sized statue of the blessed Mary for a Risen Christ Catholic Church in Evergreen MT, and his funeral service will be held at that church.
